Shipping and Returns:

Shipping: All equipment received should be inspected by the customer before acceptance. Please inspect all products to ensure no damage was done during transportation. Damaged rentals must be reported to the office within 24hrs of receipt of rentals.

Returns: The customer is responsible for packaging rental equipment in the crates and cartons they were received in. All dishes are to be returned rinsed and packed in original containers, un-rinsed dishes are subject to a @2.25 per dozen cleaning charge. This charge will be charged to the credit card number on file. The customer is responsible for having all rentals together, packaged in original crates and cartons ready for scheduled pick up time; failure to do so will be subject to additional labor and pick up charges.

Damaged and Missing Rentals:

All functions usually have a number of people involved with the handling of rental equipment; event coordinators, caterers, location staff, cleaning crew, guests and or any other people working the function. With this amount of people contributing to a function, rental items do get lost or misplaced. The customer who rented the equipment is responsible for the cost of any missing and/or damaged items. We understand the person placing the order may not be part of the clean-up crew, therefore we recommend you have one person from your clean-up crew to be responsible of ensuring all rentals are organized and ready for pick up, this helps with any discrepancies. If missing items are found after the rentals have been returned it is the customer's responsibility to return the items to Good Time Party Rentals. If you are unable to return the items we will pick them up from you for an additional cost. Missing and damaged items are billed out and charged to the credit card number on file. If missing items are returned a credit will be issued back to the credit card and late return fee's may apply.
